

Prof. R. M. Perrin leaves today for Charleston, where he will teach in the Porter School during the coming school year.

Prof. and Mrs. Lee of the West, spent Sunday at the city with Mr. and Mrs. A. Lee. Miss Lucy and Miss Emma White, who to Spartanburg today to attend Converse College. Miss Eva White, who is attending the same institution this year. They also go today.

Miss Susan Branson of Edgefield, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Wade S. Colman.

Mrs. A. M. Schenck is at home again after spending the summer in Virginia. Mrs. Schenck came Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Bernau arrived in New York city on Friday, and are expected home in the next day or two. They have been in Germany, Mr. Bernau's father land, for the past three months. Marshall, for the first time, spent the night at the school, with the principal and full corps of teachers present, judging from the crowd of children, all seemingly in a hurry to get to school, there was a large attendance on the first day of the new term.

Miss Belle Wicker is the guest of Miss Jennie Perrin. Miss Wicker will go from here to Anderson where she has a position as teacher in the graded school. Her many friends are delighted to have her with them once more.

Mr. F. D. Mazzyk came up from the "City by the sea" last Friday.

Mrs. B. T. Tilman and daughter Miss Lona spent Sunday in the city the guests of Mrs. W. Lee.

Miss Fannie and Miss Sue and Master Hank Pinkney who have been visiting their grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Marshall, for the past two weeks, left for home yesterday.

In the First Presbyterian church of Greenville, S. C. To-day at 9 o'clock, Mr. W. J. Couyers and Miss Marie Gower will be united in marriage. Both of these young people have many friends in this city who wish for them every happiness in the future.

Mr. Couyers is one of Greenville's most polished gentlemen, and a business man of splendid capacity and sterling worth. Miss Gower, one of the Mountain city's fairest daughters, accomplished, charming, and attractive. Immediately after the marriage there will be an elegant reception at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. S. M. G. Gower.

The ladies who are working so faithfully in the interest of the Long Cane Cemetery fund will give a "Dime Reading," Friday night, at the home of Mrs. J. W. White, an interesting program has been arranged, and a delightful evening may be spent. Bear this in mind, and attend the "Dime Reading."

Mr. G. S. Cade of Bordeaux was in the city yesterday.

Mr. H. H. McGee was down from Due West yesterday.

Mr. T. Parker expects to leave in a few days for Harvard.

Mrs. J. C. Reader's sister Miss Jessie Matthews of Cross Hill, will stay with her and attend the graded school.

Mr. Foster Barnwell leaves today for Blacksburg, Va., where he will attend school this year.

Messrs. Christie and Sam Bennett rode bicycles up to Anderson last Thursday and returned on Saturday. Making a quick trip each way.

Mr. E. M. Matthews of Laurens spent Sunday in the city with his sister Mrs. W. C. McGowan.

We learn that there were about 250 scholars in attendance at the school of the Graded School. This is a large number than ever before, and shows both the growth of our city and the reputation of the school.

Mr. F. M. Moore and his children of Townsville, N. C. arrived yesterday, and are the guests of Mrs. J. M. Harden.

Mr. John Sautter and wife came down Sunday on a short visit.

Capt. W. T. Branch spent last Sunday in Georgia. He came to the city after a short visit to his home in Georgia.

Mrs. D. Wyatt Aiken of Cokesbury is the guest of her son Mr. Wyatt Aiken.

Yesterday Mr. W. J. Smith was away from a ten days visit to friends in Honeska Path.

Miss Julia L. Winestock and daughter Miss Lila of Philadelphia, are the guests of Mrs. P. Rosenberg.

Mr. E. L. Monrow and Miss Lizzie Henry were happily married on last Wednesday the 15th by the Rev. F. Y. Pressley.

You will find bargains in every department at Aug. W. Smith.

Haddon's opening begins today. The ladies are cordially invited to examine their stock.

Haddon's opening of Fall and winter patterns has dress goods, etc., next Wednesday 22d inst.

The ladies are cordially invited to attend Haddon's opening on 23d inst.

Bruce's Locals

Go to Bruce's for ice cream.

Bruce's ice cream is all O. K.

Bruce will furnish you with ice cream by the glass or gallon.

Go to Bruce's Restaurant for fresh fish and oysters, court week.

Go to Bruce's Restaurant court week and get your meals, fish and oysters.

Go to Bruce's Restaurant you can get board and room.

W. Joel Smith & Son's Locals.

We sell Jute bagging and ties at 35 cents a pair.

A fresh supply of Tennessee seed barley and rye just received.

Now is the time to sow crimson and red clover seed. We have a full supply.

Be sure to look at our crockery china before buying.

Don't fall to plant pearl onion sets and don't fail to buy them from W. Joel Smith & Son if you want the best.

Just received a large lot of toy wagons, carts, wheelbarrows, baby carriages, &c.

When in need of a saddle call on W. Joel Smith & Son.

Don't forget the place when you want bagging and ties. W. Joel Smith & Son are selling jute bagging and ties at 35 cents per pattern.

Pearl onion sets, barley, rye and clover seed are now for sale by W. Joel Smith & Son.

We have just received a large lot of knitted thread in all colors. W. Joel Smith & Son.

Aug. W. Smith's Locals.

Just received several big lots of fresh flour in all grades. Will sell you cheap.

Shoes and boots to fit anybody. A full and complete line, and prices right.

Bagging and ties. Come and get prices.

Mrs. Jane Hopkins boys' clothing. Double seat, double knee, patent waist bands, and warranted not to rip. No better goods made, and prices are as low as any other make that are not made up half so well.

A full line of lap robes at C. P. Hammond & Co.

Good heavy winter shoes at C. P. Hammond & Co.

A hard winter is predicted and we have the shoes for you. See our styles. C. P. Hammond & Co.

Ladies slippers carried in stock all winter. Buy a pair of slippers and over gaiters. C. P. Hammond & Co.

Gents over gaiters at C. P. Hammond & Co.

Lemons For the Lungs.

Lemons are an excellent remedy in pulmonary diseases. When used for lung trouble from six to nine a day should be used. More juice is obtained from lemons by boiling them. Put the lemons in cold water and bring slowly to a boil. Boil slowly until they begin to soften. Remove from the water, and when cold enough to handle squeeze out the juice is extracted strain and add enough hot water or sugar to make it palatable, being careful not to make it too sweet. Add about twice as much water as there is juice. This preparation may be made every morning, or enough may be prepared one day to last three or four days, but it must be kept in a cool place.

God exhausts every means in our behalf, except compulsion. He will not force human choice, or compel moral action. We are free agents.

PERENNIAL PARAGRAPHS.

Advice to Country People - Some Thoughts About City Boys and Town Boys - Ambitious Boys Should Leave the Land of Their Birth and Seek New Homes.

The Atlanta Evening Journal of recent date publishes the following as editorial:

"GOOD ADVICE.-In the series of admirable addresses which State School Commissioner Glenn has been making in all parts of Georgia he has said many good things, but nothing wiser or more apt than his advice to boys and young men in the rural districts not to join the rush of the cities.

"This deplorable tendency is largely the result of the prevailing craze to make money. The average country youth is afflicted with the idea that he is losing great opportunities by remaining on the paternal farm, and that he can step into easy and lucrative employment; that he can rise to wealth and distinction by casting his lot in a city. This is a grievous mistake. It is causing the disappointment of hopes, the misdirection of energy and the wreck of many lives. The young man who goes to a city to find employment enters upon a rocky road. Every city in this country now has more men, young and old, than can get work, and yet the number is being increased every day by the deluded seekers for fortune who come from the surrounding country or from distant sections where they could at least have made an honest living on the farm.

"There are too many people in our cities. It has been said that it would be well for the United States, if there was not a city of more than half a million people within their limits, and we believe the remark is true. The relative increase of the city population in comparison with that in the rural regions is one of the dangerous tendencies of the times. The clamor of city life is unfortunately attracting thousands of young men who have no other resources than their own strength and energy, and who are being led to a life of poverty and struggle which they could have avoided by remaining on the farm.

"It will be very hard, if not impossible, to check this foolish craving for city life, but men who have opportunities to address the masses of the people, and newspapers which enter their homes, ought to protest against it and to show its demoralizing influence and its increasing dangers."

The continuous repetition of sentiments like the above by practical business men is a wonder to us.

There is no accounting for the utterances of a politician, and for this reason we have not noticed the address of School Commissioner Glenn, who brought out and repeated the stereotyped, stale and unwise proposition that country boys should go to the country and not go to the towns. He simply wanted the boys to plow on.

Than perennial advice to stay away from town nothing could be more repulsive to the sense and good judgment of worthy country boys who may be possessed of the ability and the ambition to seek broader and wider fields in which to conquer honorable and worthy positions.

The giving of utterance to such an absurd proposition can only be excused on the presumption that the people, like the repeater of such talk, will accept as true whatever is said by others—no matter how far it may be removed from the facts.

The fact is, that country boys in every city, town and hamlet who do not, or cannot, find employment, is incontrovertible and cannot any longer be denied.

Nobody would be foolish enough to deny a fact which is patent to all.

The history of some of the cities would not doubt prove that country boys are at the head of many of the different lines of successful business. The probability is, that a large percentage of the prominent business firms in the city of Atlanta are controlled by Atlanta boys.

Another duty—Let the Journal scribe ascertain how many of the country boys who have aspired to higher and greater things than can be accomplished in the rural districts and have sought their fortune in the cities, have been successful in their enterprises. Let him find out how many of the men in Atlanta who could find employment in the rural districts, have been successful in their enterprises. Let him find out how many of the men in Atlanta who could find employment in the rural districts, have been successful in their enterprises.

ing in his sleep when he penned the above paragraph.

Even as small a city as Abbeville furnishes proof that country boys may hold many of the best places.

This, too, without the aid of the wealth and social position to which the city boys were born.

Country boys who have nothing but their own stout hearts upon which to depend, often enter the arena where the highest effort is necessary. Their city brothers also enter the same contest. But, notwithstanding the moral support of "our set," the city's blue blooded scions too often sink out of sight, when their presence is not needed, nor is their absence thought of.

The country boy rises because of the manhood that is within him, and his success is not attributable to the fact that he was born within or without the purple.

He asserts his manhood and conquers a place despite the sneers and jeers of society nincompoops. The contention of the city boy who believes that he has the divine right to places for which he must struggle against adverse fortune, only nerves the ambitious boy to higher resolves and nobler aims. He attains success by being superior to the sneers and jeers of self-conceited inferiority.

It is a question whether any youth should remain in the neighborhood of his birth. The boy who remains at home is handicapped by his environment, no matter whether rich or poor—pretentious or humble.

The rich or influential city boy is too apt to expect the prosperity to come to him as naturally as he receives the education and the hawking of the trucking creatures that surround him.

But business success is not so easily attained. Successful business, without regard for pedigree or presumptions of arrogance, requires the exercise of good judgment and the constant application of the most successful methods.

The ambitious poor boy sized up or measured in society, not by his own worth, but by the opinion of others, is a man who is most objectionable member of his kindred.

Public opinion then, as a solid wall, stands between him and success—a barrier which must be met and an obstacle which must be overcome.

But if the same youth goes abroad, prejudice and opposition are unknown. The gates stand ajar, and he is welcomed and greeted—honored and promoted—as becomes his worth, and his ability is rewarded according to his merits.

The history of this town—the successes of the young men who have come here, and the victories of those who have gone abroad—all tend to show that the ambitious young man might as well stay at home, where he must be met and an obstacle which must be overcome.

Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and thou shalt be a blessing. And I will bless thee, and make thy name great; and thou shalt be a blessing. No man who has remained at home has done better than those who have gone away from Abbeville, and one of those who have remained in Abbeville have done better than those who have come from a distance.

The editor of the Journal, we believe, is a country boy—and if so, he is an honorable and honest representative of that class of boys who are the backbone of the nation. The editor of the Journal, we believe, is a country boy—and if so, he is an honorable and honest representative of that class of boys who are the backbone of the nation.

The editor of the Journal, we believe, is a country boy—and if so, he is an honorable and honest representative of that class of boys who are the backbone of the nation. The editor of the Journal, we believe, is a country boy—and if so, he is an honorable and honest representative of that class of boys who are the backbone of the nation.

Glen-Jones

Hardware Co.

... Abbeville, S. C. ...

Cutlery, Guns, Ammunition, Machinery Supplies, Pipe Fittings, Valves, Belting, Iron, Horse Shoes, Spokes, Hubs, Rims.

Builders Hardware.

HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS

... OF EVERY DESCRIPTION ...

Carpenters and Machinists Tools.

Estate of James W. Frazier, Dec'd.

Notice of Settlement and Application for Final Discharge.

TAKE NOTICE that on the 12th day of October, 1896, I will render a final account of my acting and doing as Administrator of the Estate of James W. Frazier, deceased, in the office of Judge of Probate for Abbeville County at 10 o'clock a. m., and on the same day will apply for a final discharge from my trust as such.

All persons having demands against said estate must present them for payment on or before that day, proven and authenticated or be forever barred.

J. L. PRESSLEY, Administrator.

Amos B. Morse's Locals.

Getting in a fresh lot of corn today. Come and get barley and rye. Also red and crimson clover seed, and pearl onion sets. Receiving fresh groceries continually. Call on me when you want anything good to eat.

L. W. White's Locals.

Come and see my 5c goods. The best assortment ever offered. The very best prints at 5c. Handkerchiefs, dress styles of gingham at 5c. Outlines of good styles and quality at 5c. The best yard wide unbleached goods at 5c ever offered at the price. Good bleached home-made at 5c. Great many other articles at the same price.

I have the best stock of bed tickings both for mattresses and for beds, from 5 to 20 cents a yard, ranging in price from 5 to 20 cents a yard.

Look at my stock of white, cream and colored damasks. They cannot be excelled. Also an elegant line of napkins, doilies and table oil cloth.

My stock of dress goods is very attractive. Don't fail to see my stock of plaids, from the cheapest to the finest all wool and silk.

I have received an entirely new line of carpets and rugs. Come and see them. They are worth looking at.

And now I would call attention to a part of my business, which has received this season more care and attention than usual. I refer to that department which embraces clothing, hats and caps and men's furnishings. Give me a call and see the quality of the goods I give you this Fall the best values in clothing you ever bought. We have also the latest and choicest styles of hats and caps. We only ask you to look, and then if you are not satisfied we do not expect you to buy.

An elegant assortment of crockery, glassware and cutlery, and a large stock of notions you some gains in this line.

If you want to look at a stock of goods entirely different from all other stocks now on the market go to the stores of L. W. White.

A. M. Hill & Sons Locals.

Blank's finest candles for sale at A. M. Hill & Sons.

Lowrey's lily chocolate creams. Try a box, they are beautiful and found only at A. M. Hill & Sons.

To arrive, the largest and finest assortment of fancy groceries in the city at A. M. Hill & Sons.

Conserved ginger, and orange peel among the many nice things found at A. M. Hill & Sons.

Fresh mackerel fish just arrived at A. M. Hill & Sons.

All kinds of canned fruits and vegetables at A. M. Hill & Sons.

Salad dressing, sauces, and all kinds of pickles at A. M. Hill & Sons.

Seedling raisins, currants, citron and mince meat in package to arrive in a few days at A. M. Hill & Sons.

Olive, and chow chow pickle in bulk to arrive at A. M. Hill & Sons.

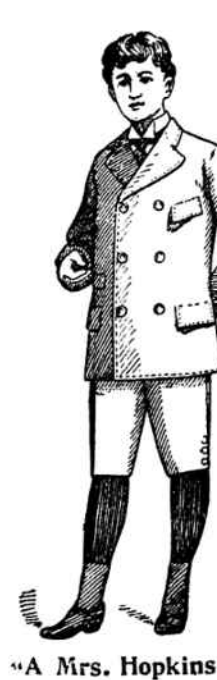

Finest cream cheese and imported macaroni always found at A. M. Hill & Sons.

FAMOUS!

MRS. JANE HOPKIN'S

... MAKE OF ...

Boy's Clothing

still leads. Double seat, double knee, riveted buttons, patent waist bands, and warranted not to rip. Have no other brand but the MRS. JANE HOPKINS. We have them in all grades. They are as cheap, if not cheaper, than inferior make.

THE MRS. JANE HOPKINS STAR MAKE REGISTERED

THIS LABEL ON A CHILDS SUIT GUARANTEES PERFECTION

REMEMBER

... WE HAVE A BIG LINE OF ...

MEN'S CLOTHING

and CHEAPER than you ever bought it. Satisfaction guaranteed on every garment we sell you or money refunded.

... DON'T FORGET US WHEN IT COMES TO ...

GROCERIES!

We are always "full up" and will sell you as cheap as any honest competitor in the State, and in a great many instances cheaper.

Yours for trade,

AUG. W. SMITH.

P. S. We Will Make it to Your Interest to Bring Us Your Cotton.

Master's Sale.

The State of South Carolina,

ABBEVILLE COUNTY.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

Alken Brothers against Jesse Williams, et al.—Foreclosure.

By VIRTUE OF AN ORDER OF SALE made in the above stated case, I will offer for sale at public outcry at Abbeville C. H., S. C., on Sale day in OCTOBER, 1896, within the legal hours of sale, the following described property, situate in said State and County to-wit: All that tract or parcel of land containing

Six and One-Quarter (6 1-4) Acres, more or less, bounded by lands of Ned Murphy and Mrs. Jane McFall, public road from Cokesbury to the C. & G. R. R., Lute Dickson and Tempy Brown.

TERMS OF SALE—Cash. Purchaser to pay for papers.

Sept. 12, 1896, 3t

J. C. KLUGH, Master.

Estate of Jane Bickett, Dec'd.

Notice of Settlement and Application for Final Discharge.

TAKE NOTICE that on the 12th day of October, 1896, I will render a final account of my acting and doing as Executor of the Estate of Jane Bickett, deceased, in the office of Judge of Probate for Abbeville County at 10 o'clock a. m., and on the same day will apply for a final discharge from my trust as such.

All persons having demands against said estate must present them for payment on or before that day, proven and authenticated or be forever barred.

J. L. PRESSLEY, Executor.

Sept. 11, 1896, 1t

The State of South Carolina,

ABBEVILLE COUNTY.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

A. J. Sellins & Sons against C. Aultman & Co.

By VIRTUE OF AN ORDER OF SALE made in the above stated case, I will offer for sale at public outcry at Abbeville C. H., S. C., on Sale day in OCTOBER, 1896, within the legal hours of sale, the following described property, situate in said State and County to-wit: All that lot or parcel of land in the town of Ninety-Six, known as the "Pope Place," containing more or less, bounded by the Public Square, Church Street, lands of J. P. Phillips and others.

Four (4) Acres,

TERMS OF SALE—Cash. Purchaser to pay for papers.

Sept. 12, 1896, 3t

J. C. KLUGH, Master.

To Cattle Men.

Beef Cattle for sale. Apply to D. H. Howard, White Hall.

When you come to Abbeville come in to Aug. W. Smith's and make his place headquarters. He will be glad to have you whether you want to trade or not.

A store full of all kind of goods Aug. W. Smith.

Aug. W. Smith's Locals.

Just received several big lots of fresh flour in all grades. Will sell you cheap.

Shoes and boots to fit anybody. A full and complete line, and prices right.

Bagging and ties. Come and get prices.

Mrs. Jane Hopkins boys' clothing. Double seat, double knee, patent waist bands, and warranted not to rip. No better goods made, and prices are as low as any other make that are not made up half so well.

A full line of lap robes at C. P. Hammond & Co.

Good heavy winter shoes at C. P. Hammond & Co.

A hard winter is predicted and we have the shoes for you. See our styles. C. P. Hammond & Co.

Ladies slippers carried in stock all winter. Buy a pair of slippers and over gaiters. C. P. Hammond & Co.

Gents over gaiters at C. P. Hammond & Co.

Lemons For the Lungs.

Lemons are an excellent remedy in pulmonary diseases. When used for lung trouble from six to nine a day should be used. More juice is obtained from lemons by boiling them. Put the lemons in cold water and bring slowly to a boil. Boil slowly until they begin to soften. Remove from the water, and when cold enough to handle squeeze out the juice is extracted strain and add enough hot water or sugar to make it palatable, being careful not to make it too sweet. Add about twice as much water as there is juice. This preparation may be made every morning, or enough may be prepared one day to last three or four days, but it must be kept in a cool place.

God exhausts every means in our behalf, except compulsion. He will not force human choice, or compel moral action. We are free agents.

L. W. WHITE.

FALL 1896.

A MOST CORDIAL INVITATION IS HEREBY EXTENDED TO THE

PEOPLE OF ABBEVILLE COUNTY

TO INSPECT THE IMMENSE STOCK OF

FALL AND WINTER GOODS WHICH I NOW OFFER.

I only ask for an examination of my stock. I am sure I can please all. I have been buying goods thirty years, but never bought them as cheap as I have bought them this season. I will give more goods for a dollar than you ever bought before. Come and try me. I struck the markets in exactly the right time, and not only bought my stock at the lowest prices, but succeeded in getting the lowest freight rate ever known. My stock is now complete in all lines. I do not think it necessary to enumerate the articles I offer for sale. The public are well acquainted with the character of the stock I have always kept. This Fall it is superior to the best I have ever carried. If you want anything in Dry Goods, Fancy Goods, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Underwear, Crockery, Hardware, Groceries or Provisions, I can supply you. Grateful for past favors I will strive harder than ever to merit the patronage of a generous public.

L. W. WHITE.